Departure of the American Riflemen.

A Purchaser of Smuggled Silks Arrested.

New Rules for Shipping Grain.

NEW YORK, June 5, 1875.

Departure of the American Riflemen.

The American team of riflemen who are to contend with the Irish team at Dollymount, and who took passage by the Inman steamer City of Chester, leaving this port to-day, embarked on board the tug boat Battery this afternoon, attended by a large crowd, and were followed on board by a howitzer and a band of musicians. After leaving the pier they sailed down the bay and there awaited the City of Chester. She was accompanied by a steamer chartered by the friends of Major Fulton and General Dakin. The City of Chester left her pier at three o'clock and took the riflemen on board in the lower bay. The riflemen were all in the best of health and spirits, and were full of confidence in their ability to bring back additional laurels to those already won in their contests with the Irish team.

Arrested for Purchasing Smuggled Silks.

William H. Talcott, buyer for the silk department of H. B. Claflin & Co., was to-day arrested on a warrant issued by the United States Commissioner, based on an affidavit made by United States District Attorney Bliss. The affidavit sets forth that Talcott did knowingly buy and receive, and aid in the buying and selling of silk goods which had been smuggled. Bliss further says the grounds of his information are a declaration of Talcott, evidence of one Jackson and others, and records of the Custom House. Talcott was held in $10 000 bail. Horace B. Claflin and John J. Donaldson, of the firm of Claflin & Co., became his bondsmen. Bliss says Talcott purchased about $400,0000 worth of silks from one of the alleged smugglers, Lafayette Graaf. Talcott has been indicted by the Grand Jury, but as yet the indictment has not been filed.

Alleged Swindlers Arrested.

Valentine Gleason and Charles Ralston, two of the alleged accomplices of the notorious Spence Pettis in his extensive bank forgeries, were arrested at the suit of the New York Guaranty and Indemnity Company. The action is for the recovery of $75,000 advanced to Ralston for the gang on forged bonds of the Buffalo, New York & Erie Railway Company.

Knights Templar Drill.

The Detroit Commandery of Knights Templar gave an exhibition drill in Union Square this afternoon. The Knights marched in procession from their hotel in full uniform, with Palestine Commandery as an escort. After the drill they proceeded to the Jersey City ferry.

Stolen Money Replaced.

The Park Bank acknowledges the receipt of $47,000 from the Treasury Department, Washington, in due course of business.

NEW YORK, June 6, 1875.

Inspection, Grading, Consolidation and Delivery of Grain.

Articles of agreement between the New York Produce Exchange and the railway companies relating to the inspection, grading, consolidation and delivery of grain arriving at New York by rail, were yesterday adopted by the managers of the Produce Exchange. Two of the articles will affect owners and forwarders as well as railroad companies and the Produce Exchange. They are as follows:

First. The railroad companies parties hereto may put together in warehouses, boats or other receptacles provided by themselves for that purpose, grain of the same kind and grade without regard to ownership, after the same be inspected, graded and weighed in accordance with the rules of the Produce Exchange as herein set forth, but nothing herein contained shall be construed as depriving the owners of the right of preserving the identity of the grain consigned to this market if they shall so elect, subject only to such conditions as may be made between themselves and the railroad companies for that purpose.

Second. That all questions of difference between the New York Produce Exchange or any member thereof and railroad companies, or either of them, growing out of the inspection and delivery of grain, shall be settled by private arbitration—a committee consisting of three persons, one of whom shall be selected by the President of the New York Produce Exchange, subject to the approval of the Committee on Grain, one by the railroad companies or company with which the controversy may arise, and these two to select a third, and the decision of such committee shall be final.

In order to fulfill this agreement, the Produce Exchange has adopted a new set of rules, which will be in force after being posted ten days.

A Strike in Prospect.

It is rumored this evening that the wages of the men employed by the Government in the United States bonded warehouse in this city will be reduced on and after to-morrow from twelve to ten dollars a week, and if this rate of wages is attempted to be enforced, the men threaten to proceed on a strike.

TEXAS.

The Adjutant General on a Tour of Observation—Enrolling the Militia—The Mexican Authorities Preparing to Protect the Frontier—Gen. Cortina Still Insubordinate—Excitement on the Rio Grande.

GALVESTON, June 5.—Advices from Neuces county, Texas, report Adjutant General Steele on a tour of observation through the western counties, making a thorough examination of the past troubles, with a view of reporting to the State authorities.

It is stated an enrollment has been made of all males liable to military duty between the Guadaloupe and Rio Grande in the southern counties.

The News' Brownsville special says General Furro, recently at Monterey, is on his way to this frontier, of which he is to have command. His forces include two regiments of cavalry, with orders to check raiding on Texas.

General Cortina positively refuses to obey the orders requiring him to report in person to the City of Mexico. He says he resigned, and is now a citizen. His friends are circulating a petition to the Government to let Cortina remain in authority on the Rio Grande.

The appearance of Texas State troops on the Rio Grande produced great excitement among the people on the Mexican side. The residents of ranches above Matamoras have organized to resist invasion. They have sentinels at the crossings of the rivers and roads. Cattle drovers are much alarmed. Some prominent citizens have gone to Matamoras for security and protection.

BUFFALO.

Meeting of Canal Boat Owners—A Union Formed.

BUFFALO, June 6.—Three large and enthusiastic meetings of canal boat owners were held yesterday, for the purpose of raising the rates of freight. The organization of a society, to be known as the "Independent Freight Carriers' Union," was completed, and a committee appointed to draft by-laws for the government of the said Union. Articles of agreement to the following effect were adopted:

The undersigned boat owners and masters hereby agree not to load our boats at less than eight cents on wheat and seven and a half cents on corn from Buffalo to New York, with all other freight in proportion. Also that all boats now in port shall load in turn as they arrive, provided they carry the amount of the order, but the boat giving away her turn shall have the first order that fits her.

For the support of the Union owners and masters are to be subjected to a small tax on the cargoes. One hundred and twenty-five masters or owners, representing two hundred and seventy-five boats, signed the agreement, and other names are being added.

BALTIMORE.

A Father Twice Arrested on a Charge of Kidnapping His Own Children.

BALTIMORE, June 5.—Henry S. Schreiner, of Savannah, was arrested in this city yesterday, on a telegram from the Chief of Police of Savannah, charged with kidnapping his own children, aged four and six years. After an investigation, Schreiner was released with his children. This morning, on a writ of habeas corpus, sued out by counsel of the grandfather, the children were brought before Chief Judge Brown, who remanded them to the custody of the father, who, on leaving Court, was again arrested on a warrant issued by a Justice of the Peace, charged with kidnapping his children, and all were again released. Protected by the city officials, Mr. Schreiner went to Locust Point, and sailed for Europe with his children. It seems the grandparents, who reside in Savannah, were opposed to the father taking his children with him to Europe.

SPORTING NEWS.

Fire at Hull, Canada.

OTTAWA, June 6.—A fire this morning at Hull destroyed Gillman's steam saw mill, the engine house being saved only. The loss of the mill, which was one of the finest in America, will throw out of employment 400 men. The loss is estimated at $200,000, including the loss on logs that results from being kept over. The property was insured for $75,000.

STATE BREVITIES.

ERIE is to celebrate the "Fourth" in the old-fashioned way.

THE Erie blast furnace has blown out, with a big stock of iron on hand.

ON Wednesday, the 9th of this month, the Medical Association of this State will convene at Pottsville.

ELIZABETH JANE FOLK, aged 14; five o'clock in the morning; kindling fire with kerosene; usual result. Pottsville.

ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHT applications for license to sell liquor were on file in Butler county when the Court took up the list this week.

AN old landmark in Franklin has passed away. It was the Presbyterian Church,—the first church built in that locality,—and erected in 1832.

A CRAB apple tree in a Reading garden, now in bloom, bears a white rose in the midst of a cluster of blossoms. A curious freak of nature.

ERIE has had a semi-centennial celebration. It was the celebration of the semi-centennial anniversary of the organization of the First Presbyterian Church.

A NUMBER of merchants refuse to take the Allentown Rolling Mill orders, on the ground that the longer they take them, the longer will the company issue them.

THE annual session of the Pennsylvania Universalist Convention, originally fixed at Girard, has been changed to Sylvania, Bradford county, where it will be held this week.

STEPHEN GOULD, of Allentown, lost from $50,000 to $60,000 worth of property, including two saw mills, by the fires in the vicinity of Hickory Run, up the Lehigh Valley Railroad.

G. DAWSON COLEMAN, of the North Lebanon furnaces, contemplates a cessation of operations of his works in about two weeks, on account of the depression in the iron trade.

THE Pennsylvania Editorial Association will hold a summer meeting at Bedford Springs, on June 22, 23 and 24, and a large attendance of the editorial fraternity of Pennsylvania is expected.

NO Receiver for the Karns Pipe Line has been appointed by the Court, and in all probability it will not be necessary to grant the application. The books of this company show an exhibit much better than had been anticipated.

A MAN by the name of Hunter, residing on the Robinson farm, near Foxburg, is the happy father of an infant that is dwarfish in the extreme. The child is three weeks old and actually weighs only the small amount of one pound and five ounces.

THE canvassers for the new City Directory of Thos. H. Greevy, Esq., have just completed a census of the city of Altoona; the total number of inhabitants is 15,329 an increase of 4,719 in less that five years, or at the rate of about one thousand a year.

A COMPANY is organizing with the view of manufacturing nails at Fountain Mills, in Fayette county, where the Southwest Pennsylvania and Mt. Pleasant and Broadford railroads intersect. All the requisite raw materials are there in abundance and of prime quality.

A NUMBER of burglaries were committed in Reading last winter, and a few days ago a young man named John Yerger was arrested on suspicion of being one of the guilty parties. Yerger made a confession implicating three other young men, all of whom were arrested and committed to prison.

SATURDAY night, John Hawk, a resident of Oil City, attempted to commit suicide by swallowing a dose of bed bug poison. His wife discovered what he had done and summoned a doctor. By great exertion, the effects of poison were overcome and the man saved. Domestic trouble was the cause of the rash act.

THE axe and hoe factory of Mr. Graff, of Beaver Falls, went into operation on Monday last. It is but little over two months since the entire works were burned to the ground. The substitution of new buildings and of the extent required, within so short a period of time, exhibits energy and enterprise rarely seen.

THE irrepressible, omniscient and omnipresent "Jones Brothers" accompanied the Sir Knights on their trip to Pittsburgh. The Pittsburgh bootblacks objected to the strangers monopolizing their trade, and as a consequence, the Joneses came home adorned with a "big head" each. Evidently foreign talent is not appreciated in Pittsburgh.—Oil City Derrick.

MONEY must be plenty in Mifflin county, if the amount lost is a criterion to judge by. A few weeks ago a citizen lost his pocket-book with six hundred dollars in it, and last week the Lewistown Sentinel published the following item: "Six $20 bills were picked up at Russell's corner last week by Christian Miller. The money was lost by Mr. Godfrey, of the foundry."

ON Sunday afternoon some graceless boys went fishing along Franch Creek, a mile or two above Franklin. In digging for bait a portion of the bank rolled down, revealing to their horrified gaze a quantity of human bones. Further investigation disclosed a complete skeleton, recognized by the long hair reaching to the waist as that of a woman. The mystery is being investigated.

THE disappearance of Henry Landis, of Palmyra, Lebanon county, is creating a great deal of excitement. Foul play is suspected. He was missed May 12th. Since then murder has been suspected. Others reported financial difficulties. Mr. Landis is reported to be a man of good repute, sound mind and strict temperate habits, and owns property, above all liabilities, to the amount of about $20,000.

THE Warwick furnace property, situated in Warwick township, Chester county, and in Lancaster and Berks counties, which has been in the Potts family for so many years, is to be sold by the executors of its late owners, David Potts, Jr., and Nathaniel Potts, deceased. The property consists of 5,000 acres of land, upon which are valuable iron and copper deposits; stone quarries and farm land; also the old Warwick Iron furnace, sixteen dwellings and barns, and a large amount of timber lands. The property is situated about 9 miles from Pottstown.

THE Pottstown Ledger says: A young woman who is a somnambulist, residing with a family on High street, Pottstown, Montgomery county, returned to bed a few evenings ago, and soon fell asleep. When she awoke she found herself at Rinehart's store, at the corner of the above named street, with a lighted lamp in her hand. She had arisen in her sleep, put on her wrapper, lighted the lamp and started out. The lamp was extinguished suddenly, and the young woman made her way back to the house in the shortest possible space of time.

THE Lewistown Gazette says: Among the saved from the fire at Osceola was Mrs. Ramey, formerly of this place. She was up stairs engaged in dressing her children when men knocked at her door and hastily informed her that the fire was sweeping with terrific speed towards the town, and that unless she fled immediately all would meet an inevitable doom. Taking up her undressed children she hastened from her home, which a few minutes later was a heap of ashes. Her husband was away at the mill working, and returning at one o'clock at night found all a desolation, he being hardly able to recognize the site of a home which he had just succeeded in paying for.

WE have taken some pains to gain information by conversing with farmers and others of our vicinity relative to the prospects of good or bad crops this season. We are led to believe from all that we can gather that our county will not yield in wheat half a crop. One farmer informed us that he had thirteen acres in wheat and he was quite sure that it could all stand on two acres, and, adding, that his prospects were a fair sample of his neighbors. Oats and corn are exceedingly backward. The fruit is almost an entire failure. Our exchanges bring us more cheering news from a distance, and on the whole we may congratulate ourselves that in spite of frost, grasshoppers, potato bugs, etc., there will be a sufficiency of the fruits of the earth to provide for man and beast. Providence provides for all save grumblers and whiners.—Beaver Valley News.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Last "Talk" with the Indians.

Failure of the Black Hills Negotiations.

The Treasury Robber Still Undiscoved.

WASHINGTON, June 5, 1875.

The Last "Talk" with the Indians.

The Indians called at the Interior Department this morning to say good-by to the Commissioner, when a short interview took place. They expect to start for home to-night. The Cheyenne River Indians will stop for a few days in New York. The agents return with them, though it is understood the resignation of Agent Savilie is at the disposal of the Department. When the Indians entered the Interior Department the Commissioner said: I understand that some of you want to speak this morning, and I would be glad to hear anything you have to say.

Red Cloud—My friend, we are going home to-day, and the young men you see here want to shake hands with you and bid you good-bye. We came also to ask about something we have not heard about. I would like to ask about pay for those who came with me—the interpreters and all the Indians.

The Commissioner said: There are some things to be said about those men who have come along, that I would rather not be obliged to say to you, that they have not come by the wish of anybody but themselves, so far as I know, and they have been the source of mockery and trouble ever since they came here. They got you to insist on going to the Washington House, and they got some of you to go there after I had told you that it was not a proper place for you. They have led you in bad practices since you have been here. Now they have the impudence to come and ask me to pay them for that sort of service, and I leave it you whether I had better do it or not. That is all that is to be said on that subject. I have told your agent to spend for you, in getting such presents as you want, twenty-five dollars apiece. This is in addition to what you have already received in suits of clothes and other things that your agent has bought for you. I wish I could make it more, and do for you what you ask in that respect, and to furnish each of you a horse with saddle and equipments; but I am not able to do that because I have not the money to make the purchase.

"Little Wound" said: You tell the truth when you say that you did not invite the interpreters to come along with the Indians. We have heard that before, but if we had come with only three interpreters belonging to our delegation, these three interpreters would dispute as to what we said. We invited these three to come in order to be witnesses on our return as to what was done. As for myself, I am not influenced by these men. They wanted to come along with us, and now they say we have deceived them, and between the two they are falling to the ground. They blame us for not getting paid. We came here at the invitation of the President, and we expected to go home with horses, equipments and guns, so that our people would receive us gladly. If we go home without anything of this kind, when we arrive there the people will laugh at us.

Commissioner—I would not give you guns if I could. If I could give you horses and saddles I would, but I have no power about it. I cannot do it, so it is not worth while for me to encourage you in any way to expect it. About these men that you speak of as interpreters, they are not interpreters at all. Todd Randall, when he came to interpret for Red Cloud, broke down, and Red Cloud had to get some one else. Palladay, the only one who did belong to you as interpreter, was employed by me. He is a good interpreter, but he likes whisky so well that he broke down. He got so drunk I could not see him for several days. I shall pay him for what he did and send him home. Randall will also be paid. Those other men who have deceived you, who have kept you from doing your duty, and have led you astray, have no claim for anything, and they may be thankful that they are not driven out of the country.

The Commissioner then addressed Sitting Bull, saying: I have heard with great pleasure of your conduct and of the conduct of one or two others of the Red Cloud agency. I have heard from your agent and from the military officers at the agency of the great service you have rendered the Government. You have proved yourself to be a very brave and true man, a friend to your own people and to the whites. Your good conduct has been reported to the President, and I am instructed by him to give you a token of his regard.

The Cheyennes called on Commissioner Smith this afternoon, and complained considerably about the failure of the Government to do anything for them since their arrival here, saying the Indians that did the best got treated the worst by the Government. Tall Man Dan said if he had learned to lie like Spotted Tail and Red Cloud he would have fared better from the Government. Lone Horn pointed to Mrs. Kelly, saying "That lady that sits over there, our people once did a wrong to that we can never pay her for. If you can pay her for us I wish you would."

Mrs. Kelly's husband and little daughter were killed by Sioux, and herself taken captive a few years ago. After handshaking the Indians left, and will return home by way of New York. The President presented Sitting Bull with a fine rifle, nicely mounted and enclosed in a leather case. In brass mountings surrounding the lock is engraved "Sitting Bull, from the President, for bravery and friendship." The Cheyenne Indians requested the Commissioner to appoint Rev. S. D. Hinman and Rev. J. P. Newman commissioners to go out and aid in negotiating the Black Hills matter.

The Treasury Robbery.

The thief who stole the package of bills from the Treasury Department a few days ago remains undiscovered. General Spinner seems worn out with anxiety. Charges have been made that several banks which sent packages of money to the Treasury have been reported short in their remittances, and the banks have been requested to make up the deficits. The Treasury officers say that such discoveries have been rare, and the evidence is conclusive that the banks had made a miscount. The package of $47,000 received by the Park Bank of New York was sent by the Treasury to replace the one lost.

WASHINGTON, June 6, 1875.

A False Rumor.

A rumor was circulated yesterday that Secretary Delano had resigned, to take effect on the 1st of July, and ex-Senator Scott, of Pennsylvania, would be appointed in his place. Secretary Delano says the rumor has not the slightest foundation in fact.

The Black Hills.

As the visit of the Sioux Indians to Washington to negotiate with the Government for the relinquishment of their possession of the Black Hills has proved a failure, and as the Indians left here much dissatisfied, difficulties are apprehended between them and such whites who may enter their country for the purpose of seeking gold. It is estimated by agents that the Sioux can muster from three to five thousand warriors, about half armed with rifles and the remainder with bows and arrows. The Government in the meantime will try to prevent adventures from going to that country, still having some hope, through the medium of commissions, to effect a treaty with the Sioux.

Military Changes.

There is a report, not officially confirmed, that Quartermaster General Meigs, having been assigned to special duty with his brevet rank of Major General, will be placed in command of the Department of the South, with headquarters at Louisville, and then General McDowell will go to Europe on leave, and on his return will be placed on the retired list.

CHICAGO.

Testing the Right of the Government to Seize the Books and Papers of Distillers.

CHICAGO, June 5.—In the United States District Court, in this city, before Judge Blodgett, the question of the right of the Government to seize the books and papers of those persons whose distilleries have been seized on the charge of defrauding the revenue was argued. The defendants were represented by Hon. Matt. Carpenter, Sidney Smith, Leonard Swett and Edmund Jussen, and the prosecution by District Attorney Wirt Dexter and others. The Government claims that these books and papers are a part of the personal property of the distillers, and are, therefore, liable to seizure and forfeiture. The defense claimed, on the other hand, that the books and papers are private property, and exempt under the law, they not being compelled to furnish evidence for their conviction. Mr. Carpenter closed the defense this afternoon, when the Judge took the matter under advisement.

ST LOUIS.

The Constitutional Convention—The Question of Woman Suffrage to be Submitted to a Vote of the People—Investigation Into the Fraudulent War Claims—Report of the Adjutant Generel.

ST. LOUIS, June 5.—The Committee on Electors and Elections of the State Constitutional Convention, in making their report to the Convention, offered a supplemental report, recommending that the question of woman suffrage be referred to the Committee on Separate Propositions, to be voted upon when the Constitution is submitted to the people. A lengthy debate followed. A motion to table the proposition failed, and after it became evident that the sense of the Convention was to deal with the question in such a way as to leave its supporters no excuse to bring it up again, the recommendation of the committee was adopted, and a provision for woman suffrage will be submitted to the people as a separate proposition.

ST. LOUIS, June 6.—It will be recollected that these dispatches announced some weeks since, on the authority of special dispatches from Jefferson City to the Globe, that a great fraud in war claims was being perpetrated upon this State and the United States. The whole matter has now assumed definite and official shape, and Adjutant General Geo. C. Bingham will to-morrow lay before the Constitutional Convention, in response to a resolution adopted by that body, a report of his investigation of the affair.

A special to the Globe Democrat to-night says the report of Adjutant General Bingham shows that war claims certificates have been audited and issued to an amount of $13,000 for military services alleged to have been rendered by the Seventeenth regiment of enrolled Missouri militia, organized in St Louis, although the regiment was never in active service, and according to the rolls filed in the Adjutant General's office was never entitled to any pay whatever, and that these certificates were issued against the rules and regulations of the pay department and in violation of the laws relating to war claims; that the stubb books from which the certificates were issued on account of this regiment were taken and have disappeared from the Adjutant General's office; that duplicate copies of the muster and pay rolls of this regiment were fabricated as vouchers for the fraudulent claims on which the issue of those certificates were based. General Bingham's investigation has only extended as yet to the Seventeenth Regiment, but he adds to his report that the amount of war claims audited and allowed and certificates of indebtedness issued therefor by the Paymaster General is $1,414,325, while the amount due enrolled militia for services during the war, as appears on the record of unpaid claims, is only $365,860, leaving a balance of over one million, which seems to be fraudulent.

The dispatch further states that Governor Woodson is expected in Jefferson City in a few days to assist in further exposure of this alleged swindle. It is also stated that great efforts have been made to hush this matter up, and that various inducements have been offered Gen. Bingham by interested parties to suppress the investigation, but that gentleman has paid no heed to them.

MINNESOTA.

Steamer Sunk on the Red River of the North—The Southern Minnesota Railroad for Sale.

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 5.—Steamboat navigation on the Red River of the North soon resulted in rival steamboat lines and the sinking of the steamboat Manitoba, of the Merchants' line, by the International, of Ketsons. No lives were lost. The casualty is openly ascribed by the officers of the sunken steamer to commercial jealousy. Only a few years ago there were no steamboats on the Red River of the North.

Last August the United States District Court entered a decree of foreclosure for the sale of the Southern Minnesota Railroad on a petition of the mortgage bond holders. It was at once advertised to be sold by the Master in Chancery, which sale has been eleven times postponed. The advertisement was dated for the 25th of June, and it is expected that the road will be bought by the Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad Company. The road has scarcely paid running expenses, and is immensely in debt.

THE MINERS' WAR.

All Quiet at Mahanoy City and Shenandoah—Work to be Resumed.

POTTSVILLE, PA., June 6.—There was some uneasiness at Ashland last night, owing to rumors of a demonstration to be made at a meeting to be held last night, but all passed off quietly. At Mahanoy City and Shenandoah all was quiet to-day. At the former place, to-morrow, all the collieries that had started last week and were stopped by raiders will resume. The military have made preparations to secure protection to all, and insure the continuance of work.

The estate is valued at over one million dollars.

—Dr. Peters, of Utica, N. J., expresses the belief that he discovered two planets on Friday morning instead of one, the second of only twelve A magnitude.

—Mark Brown, convicted of the murder of S. Gloester Carr, at Purvis, Sullivan county, N. Y., last October, has been sentenced to be hanged on July 31st.

—Three children of Leroy Ellis, living six miles from Lagrange, Ky., while out feeding poultry on Sunday morning, were struck by lightning and two of them instantly killed. The third was much stunned, but afterwards recovered.

—Ed. Johnson, one of the gang who assaulted and robbed the express messenger in Memphis last February, was brought before Judge Flippim, of the Criminal Court, on Saturday, for trial, and a plea of present insanity entered by his counsel.

—A St. Albans, Vt., on Sunday, Clifton S. Weeks attempted to kill Henry C. Greene, after setting his barn on fire, and soon after shot himself dead. Greene's wounds are slight. Disappointed love and the belief that Greene influenced the object of his affection caused the tragedy.

—In Cleveland, on Friday, a lawyer, J. B. McLaughlin, was fined twenty-five dollars for contempt of Court by Judge Young, of the Police Court. On Saturday, McLaughlin, meeting Judge Young on the street, assaulted and knocked him down. McLaughlin was arrested and put under bail to await trial.

—At Aurora, Ind., on Saturday, a difficulty occurred between a young man named Frank Rossfield and a saloon keeper, named Ross. They had some few words, when Ross ordered Rossfield out of the saloon, and upon his refusal to go, Ross drew a revolver and shot him above the left eye, killing him instantly.

—At the annual convention in New York, on Saturday, of the Church of New Jerusalem in America (Swedenborgian), the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Rev. Chauncey Silas, of New York; Vice President, Hon. T. A. Plautz, of Ohio; Secretaries, W. H. Hinckley and F. A. Dusen; Treasurer, Nathan Hobart.

—A few days ago Henry T. Mankin was arrested at Charleston, Mo., on a charge of embezzling Government money from the Postoffice at Holly Springs, Mississippi. Detectives have been on his track for some time, and finally succeeded in his capture by closely shadowing his sister, who resides in Cincinnati. Mankin resided for a time in Chicago, from which place he fled to escape the detectives. Afterward it is alleged he swindled the First National Bank of Cairo out of $7,000 on a forged check. He has traveled under a number of aliases. He was postmaster at Holly Springs, and it is stated took several thousand dollars of Government money from there when he decamped. He is now on his way to Holly Springs in charge of a Government officer.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

THE furnace of Shoenberger & Co. that is now out of blast will blow in soon—perhaps next week.

HUSSEY, WELLS & Co. are erecting another pair of 24-pot Siemens furnaces. This will make three pairs altogether.

FIRE was put into Soho furnace Wednesday the 26th ult., blast was put on the next day, and on the following day the first cast was made—12 tons good mill iron.

SEVERAL of the employes at Haugh & Co.'s Ironworks, says the Indianapolis Journal, have property and bank accounts amounting to $10,000 or more, and one of them could muster $20,000 with but little trouble. Most of those in good circumstances have been in the employ of this company for many years.

THE Lucy furnace of this city went out of blast on the 15th of May, after a blast of almost three years on the present lining, the filling having been commenced May 15, 1872. During this time the furnace has been twice out of blast, once from a "chill," and once from a "scaffold," and has been once "banked up," owing to a strike. The entire time out has been about ten weeks. In the 146 weeks in blast the furnace has made 68,980 tons of iron, or an average of 473 tons per week. About 11,000 tons of this was Bessemer pig, which accounts for the low average per week. The largest day's run on ordinary iron was 101 1492-2268; largest week's run, 653 1906-2268; on Bessemer, largest day's, 89 1098-2268; largest week's 592 1034-2268. The furnace is 75 feet high and 20 feet boshes.—American Manufacturer

The Pace that Kills.

"It is the pace that kills." People who live fast get old rapidly. Nothing wears out the constitution like dissipation and late hours. Hygeia, goddess of health, bitterly revenges herself upon all who break her laws, not alone who do so wantonly, but even those who are compelled by hard necessity. Constant overwork saps the physical structure with no less certainty, if less rapidly, than dissipated habits. There is, however, an antiseptic which so far as it is in the power of medicine to retard the wear and tear of the system thus accelerated, achieves that object most successfully. This preservative is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a vitalizing agent without a peer. Premature decay, whether it be the result of inherent weakness, hard work, continuous anxiety, dissipation or disease, is stayed in its withering career, and the exhausted and shattered system powerfully reinforced by this genial restorative.

LUTHERAN CHURCH.

The Place for the Next Synod—The "Ministerium" Question Settled.

In the General Synod of the Lutheran Church, sitting at Baltimore, a resolution was passed on Thursday, fixing Carthage, Illinois, as the place for holding the next Synod, and the second Wednesday after Trinity Sunday, 1877, as the time.

Dr. Albert presented the report of the Pastors' Fund, showing it to be in a prosperous condition; assets, $6,194.

After a lengthy debate on the Ministerium question which had engaged the attention of the Synod for several days, the vote was called for, and the yeas and nays taken, with the following result: Yeas 68, nays 55. The amendment was carried, viz.: The rights of the Ministerium (composed entirely of ministers) granted to those synods having no such a body, which authorizes clergy and laymen to ordain and examine for the ministry. The whole constitution as amended was then adopted.

The Committee on the Liturgy presented their report. It led to much discussion, many participating in the debate. When the final question was put, on reference and a provisional cheap form of liturgy for examination, it was adopted.

Adjourned.

THE CLOSING SESSION.

The Committee on Colloquium reported through Dr. Valentine. The General Council of the Lutheran Church took action at its last session, refusing to hold intercourse with the General Synod's delegates on Church differences, but recommending that the Colloquium be formed of delegates from each of the Lutheran bodies looking to a general union. The committee, composed of Rev. Messrs. Valentine, Stuckenburg and J. Stough, reported the following as the result of their consideration.

First. This General Synod appreciates the courtesies and fraternal spirit and words in which, whilst declining fraternal correspondence with this body, a colloquium on the points of doctrinal difference is proposed as a means by which a better understanding and unity may be brought about between the different parts of the Lutheran Church; and desires to assure the General Council of its readiness to cooperate in any and every way proper and practicable, affording promise of success in promoting that concord and fellowship in the Church, to which the constitution and history of this body have committed it.

Second. Inasmuch, however, as the doctrinal positions of the general bodies invited to concur in arranging for the colloquium are clearly defined and set forth in their constitution and official acts, by which alone they are willing to be judged, and that this body especially, is fully and unmistakably settled in its adoption of the unaltered Augsburg confession, a position which it entertained no idea of changing; we cannot see, either, any need of such colloquium between these different parts of our Church as a necessary preparation for the mutual "recognition by each body of the position of the other" as Lutheran, or any advantage from it in the way of attaining a better understanding or interpretation of their doctrinal differences, since its members cannot interpret authoritively those official utterances which state the relations of their respective bodies to the Augsburg Confession. We do not regard the proposed colloquium, in the present state of the Church, suited to promote the cause of peace and union, nor as an equivalent for the mutual recognition and fellowship implied in regular inter-synodical correspondence.

Third. While, therefore, we decline to take part in the arrangements for the proposed colloquium, we reiterate our proposal for correspondence by accredited delegates, as the most fitting thing in this respect between these general bodies of your Lutheran Zion, and as promising most for the future unity of the Church.

Professor Wolf and Rev. G. U. Wenner, of the committee, submitted a minority report, accepting the recommendation of the General Council for holding a colloquium, and suggesting that a committee to that body be appointed by the Synod.

A motion to adopt the majority report by clauses created considerable discussion. Finally, the question was called for, and the vote was taken by yeas and nays, resulting in favor of the majority report by 66 to 30 votes.

Rev. Mr. Barnitz submitted the report of the Committee on Sunday Schools, which was accepted. Another on Swedish work was also accepted.

Upon motion, the subject of the catechism was recommitted to the Committee on Revision, to make the needed alterations.

The Synod then adjourned finally, to meet at Carthage, Illinois, on the first Wednesday after Trinity Sunday, 1877.

IT is a good move,—that of Postmaster General Jewell, to visit the principal post-offices of the country, that he may investigate their workings, and see what is needed to improve the service. He is evidently a practical, sensible man.

REPORTS from Cuba indicate the retirement of Valmaseda, the Captain General. Between the Carlist and Cuban war, the Spanish Government evidently has more than it can attend to, and the Cubans may yet achieve liberty. They certainly deserve it.

SINCE the Summer weather began we have had a succession of rain falls which, united with the continuous warm weather, have done much toward securing the rapid growth of vegetation. It seems probable that nature proposes to repair the injury that promised to attend the severe weather of Winter and Spring, and is now affording us, for that purpose, the very best kind of growing weather.

THE next Centennial Celebration that looms up is that of the battle of Bunker Hill. Great preparations are being made to celebrate this event with much splendor and spirit. The city of Boston has extended to, and covered the Hill where that celebrated battle was fought, but there is a space around the monument which crowns the Hill, for a suitable display. There will be a large gathering of military, and such interest and eclat as Boston knows so well how to give to an event in which her fame is so largely involved.

THE visit of the Sioux Indians to Washington has resulted in utter failure, so far as the project to obtain a treaty from them by which they would exchange the Black Hills for other territory, is concerned. They became stubborn because they were not entirely suited in their entertainment. The President gave them a plain talk, and Secretary Delano has sought to impress them as to their duty; but they are sullen, suspicious, greedy and childish. There is reason for believing that the use of force will yet become necessary in the management of this troublesome tribe.

THE report of Mr. Forster, Insurance Commissioner for this State, contains a number of suggestive facts and valuable statements. He makes, for example, an analysis of the returns from all the Pennsylvania companies, which shows that in 1874, of all the premiums received, 52½ per cent. were paid for losses, 28 per cent. were absorbed in expenses, and the balance, 19½ per cent., were profits. Upon the home risks, however, the profits were 32½ per cent., or nearly one-third. The Commissioner, upon this showing, commends these figures "to the careful consideration of ambitious companies which imagine that a general agency business is essential to prosperity." We commend this suggestion as worth heeding.

CHICAGO papers, apropos of a case in their city, are discussing whether a man is constructively libeled, by being called on to resign the office of Internal Revenue Collector. In view of the recent frauds, one paper claims that he is, and another that he isn't. The man in question refuses to resign until his official career has been investigated. A nice case, that. The Department has, presumptively, a reason for calling for the resignation; but this is not, necessarily, one that involves the Collector in a criminal sense. He may have been inefficient, or lacked perception of what was occurring around him, and thus have been unfitted for the office without being involved in anything distinctly wrong. In such cases the Government cannot have charges preferred, and the man tried.

THE fact that the policy of protection has marked the salvation of this country, as regards the prices of railway iron, is very pertinently illustrated by the following: "Large orders for steel rails have been taken by the Chicago and Joliet rolling-mills, amounting to seventy-five thousand tons, at forty per cent. less than the ruling rate of 1873, and twenty-five per cent. less than the current rate for the foreign rails. They are for the Rock Island, Alton, Illinois Central, Michigan Central, and the Central Pacific, and are to replace old iron rails." Thus the western railroads,—and the Chicago and Northwestern should be included in the above list, are replacing old rails with new, of American manufacture, more cheaply than foreign manufacturers can furnish them. Had the old policy of free trade obtained, we would not have mills that could furnish the iron, and England would demand, in the absence of competition, the old rates of $120 a ton, gold.

THOSE who have believed that the production of iron in this country reached a very low ebb in 1874, will be astonished to know that it was nearly as great as for 1872, during which the production was very large. The total production of pig metal in 1874 was 2,689,413 net tons, against 2,868,278 net tons in 1873, and 2,854,558 net tons in 1872, showing a decrease of 178,865 tons as compared with 1873, and of only 165,156 tons as compared with the prosperous year 1872. The Secretary of the Iron and Steel Association estimates the stock of iron on hand at the close of 1874 at 1,000,000 tons, which is about double the stock carried in times when there is a good market. Making allowance, however, for this excess, the sales of the year are still far greater than was anticipated. The report does not show the actual consumption of the years 1873 and 1874. The latest information possessed by the Iron and Steel Association as to the number of furnace stacks in and out of blast is up to February 1, when of 701 stacks, 303 were in blast and 398 out. Among those working are nearly all the large furnaces. It is not believed, however, that the product of the present year will equal that of last.

UNWILLING TESTIMONY.

In a sense, the campaign of 1876 may be said to have already begun. The general influences, which will affect the prospects of the rival parties, are being carefully canvassed. True, it is somewhat early, as yet, to prognosticate with any confidence or accuracy. Much will depend on the outcome of the present campaign. If the Republican party is victorious in Ohio, and particularly in Pennsylvania, it will be accepted as a fair indication of a general victory in 1876. If the Democrats carry the States mentioned, and are generally successful, it will afford them confident hopes of further success. So much may be taken for granted. The philosophic New York Tribune, however, displays its remarkable perspicacity in assuming to estimate the probabilities on the basis of a partisan view of the past record of the two parties. Hence it presents a statement of Republican shortcomings, black as midnight, and argues, to the extent of a column or more, that such facts will crush the party out of existence. This sad view, however, has its relieving features.

These are stated by the Tribune in two items of facts, the full import of which it evidently did not comprehend. The first is as follows: "If, now, the Republican leaders in the several States have sagacity and foresight enough, to comprehend the present situation, and grasp the possibilities it offers, they can supplement the work already done, in such a way as to convince the country of their sincerity, and command the support of the great mass of independent voters, whose sympathies are naturally with them, but who have been absolutely driven over to the opposition." The second has respect to the virtues of the Democracy: "There is a cause for it. Where shall we seek it? Not, certainly, in any new claims of the Democratic party to public confidence. Unhappily, wherever it has been trusted to any extent, it has shown an amount of audacity and recklessness, of unscrupulous greed, of incompetency for high trusts, and disregard for public sentiment, differing from its opponents only in the degree of opportunity afforded it. There is no need to cite instances of this. In New Hampshire, Connecticut, and Pennsylvania the Democrats have had their way, and the country has witnessed their performances." Thus, according to this paper, which so enjoys the privilege of making thrusts at the Republican party, and which believes the Democracy will gain power in 1876, the Republican party actually stands better before the country to-day than the Democracy,—has the confidence of the people, and may make its continuance in power sure. Those who have far more political sagacity than the young gentleman who persuaded Horace Greeley into the Liberal movement, think the Republican party is sure of a grand triumph in 1876.

VALUE OF SPECIE RESUMPTION.

The policy of parties on the currency issue is almost certain to be a leading feature of the next Presidential canvass. If no other influence serves to precipitate it, the situation of the country will demand the consideration of that subject. Secretary Bristow has been honestly and ably striving to make headway toward specie payments, and yet we are apparently farther from them than we were when we began. That is, gold is higher, and the specie surplus in the Treasury is smaller than when he began. Yet in some things he has been successful. He has made real and satisfactory progress in funding the debt at a lower rate of interest; he has penetrated the rascalities of the revenue service, and made the honest collection of revenues probable. As yet, we do not derive special benefit from these things, and cannot foretell what the results will be. The saving of interest will be, on the amount of low rate bonds authorized, about $4,000,000 a year,—not a very large item toward specie resumption,—but still something.

The question begins already to be asked, and will be emphasized, ere long, in view of the struggle being made to reach specie payments—does it pay? We are seeking them on the line of contraction. The Government is withdrawing its own currency in the ratio of eighty per cent. of the new national bank notes issued. In other words, it is withdrawing its non-interest debt, and retaining that which bears interest. The theory was that it would bring greenbacks to par with gold. Several millions of greenbacks have been withdrawn, and the result is, a steady advance in gold, from about ten to over seventeen cents premium, or as the contractionists were so ready to state it, greenbacks have steadily depreciated under the process, and it is now believed that this depreciation will yet reach twenty per cent. This depreciation in greenbacks loses the country more than is gained by funding the interest-bearing debt at a lower rate. This fact is palpable. We save one per cent. in interest, while greenbacks have depreciated seven per cent. Is it not evident, by this simple statement of palpable facts, that the policy of restoring specie payments by contraction is, and must be, a failure?

We do not, for a single moment, believe that specie payments can be reached in 1879 by this process. Before it was entered upon, we stated that its only effect within the country would be to impair confidence, delay the prompt resumption of business activity, keep industries oppressed, and thus prevent the Government from accumulating the means with which to resume. Thus far facts have justified our views. Laws have been enacted, and efforts made to increase the gold reserve of the Government, reduce the debt, and generally to prepare for specie payments. This year, not more than half the debt reduction regarded as legal can be made out of the surplus revenues of the Government, and no accumulation of gold is made. Is it reasonable to believe this policy will work better in the future? Admit in the abstract that specie payments are desirable, and we hold that the country is not making substantial progress toward them. Experience and observation strongly confirm the views we have heretofore advanced, that the true method of reaching specie payments is to encourage the prosperity of the country, give employment to labor, develop and accumulate by means of labor actual wealth, and thus reach specie payments by a natural and agreeable process.

But we go farther than this. We hold that the Government pays specie now, so far as this is desirable or demanded. The interest on bonds is paid in gold; and the exchange of bonds is made on a gold basis. This is as far as specie payments are demanded. At home, where greenbacks circulate, we doubt if there has ever been an honest demand for gold, in place of them. Their value in gold is easily ascertained, from day to day, and their safety is undoubted. This demand for specie payments, as compared with greenbacks, comes from two sources,—Eastern capitalists, who desire thus to increase the value of mortgages, foreigners who are not concerned as to the circulating medium of this country, and, occasionally cranky politicians. The people of this country are satisfied with greenbacks, and regard as more important that the Government should make efforts to develop business and restore prosperity than that it should seek to restore specie payments. When this country shall have developed its wealth sufficiently to export more than it imports, we will gradually and naturally emerge from this pressure of debt. This done, and specie payments will naturally be upon us. We produce specie in quantities sufficient for this. Whether it will be more economical to keep and use it, or to sell it, when we reach that point, is a question that refers to the future. In the meantime, however, the country is beginning to feel that this struggle after specie payments does not pay.

OLD Reverdy Johnson has written a letter upon the subject of the President's Third-Term declaration, and it is Reverdy's opinion that the President regards the subject as a mere matter of dollars and cents, and that "if the salary which he now receives should be secured to him as a retiring pension, he would gladly leave the office at once." As Reverdy has not any reason whatever upon which to base such an assertion, and as nobody asked him for an opinion upon the subject, his letter may be regarded merely as a piece of gatuitous blackguardism very unbecoming to a man who professes to be a gentleman, but very characteristic of the method of political warfare employed by the party to which Reverdy belongs.—*Phila. TOBACCO has to answer for a new calamity. It has caused the bankruptcy of many of the leading farmers of North Hadley, Mass. The latter engaged in raising tobacco, and a few profitable seasons gave them a speculative turn of mind. They "discounted the future," or, in old fashioned language, "counted their chickens before they were hatched," and having borrowed money on notes, which their crops were to meet, the failure of the latter caused their ruin. The friends of tobacco may justly say in defence of the weed that it was rather the want of tobacco than its presence which caused the ruin of the farmers of North Hadley, but it is manifest that if there never had been any tobacco the potato, which hath no speculation in its eye, would have brought slow but sure profit to some who, in attempting to "raise" tobacco, have themselves "gone up."

PROPOSALS.

FOR SALE.

308,000 ACRES

VALUABLE LANDS In Kansas.

By the direction of the Honorable Secretary of the Interior, the undersigned will receive sealed bids for the purchase of any or all of the unsold lands west of the Neosho River, along the southern line of the State of Kansas embraced within what is generally known as the "CHEROKEE STRIP."

These lands are offered for sale in compliance with the provisions of an act of Congress approved May 11, 1872, [U. S. Statutes at Large, vol. xvii, pp. 98 and 99.]

They will be sold to the highest bidder for cash, in quantities not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres, and not less than two dollars per acre for all of said lands lying east of the Arkansas river, and one dollar and fifty cents per acre for such lands as lie west of said river.

Printed lists, describing the lands hereby offered for sale by their proper legal subdivisions and indicating the mimimun price at which each tract is held, will be sent by mail to the address of any person making application therefor to the Commissioner of the General Land Office, or to the Register and Receiver of the local offices at Wichita and Independence, Kansas.

Persons offering to purchase may bid for as many tracts as they may desire, but each bid must be separately made and sealed, and must be for not more than one hundred and sixty acres, (and conform to the legal subdivions embraced in the list.)

Bids must be accompanied by ten per cent. of the amount bid, as a guarantee of the good faith of the bidder, which sum, in case the land is awarded and the balance not paid, will be forfeited. Should any bid be rejected, the sum deposited will be returned to the proper party.

Parties whose bids are accepted will be notified of such acceptance as soon after the opening of the bids as practicable, and if within forty days after such notice has been duly mailed payment in full be not made to the Commissioner of the General Land Office of the amount bid, the land upon which such bid was made will be again subject to sale.

The ten per cent. deposit required to accompany bids may be remitted in Post Office orders, certificates of deposit, certified checks on some Government depository payable to the order of the Commissioner of the General Land Office, or in currency.

The right to reject any and all bids is expressly reserved.

All bids must be sealed and addressed to the "COMMISSIONER OF THE GENERAL LAND OFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C.," and indorsed "BIDS FOR CHEROKEE STRIP LANDS."

Bids will be received as above invited until 12 o'clock noon of the second day of August, 1875, after which they will be duly opened and acted upon.

Commissioner of the General Land Office.

Saturday was a day of showers, and these served to limit activity, both in streets and at banks. Beyond the usual necessary demand there was not a large volume of business, but quietude prevailed. There is a tendency in business and finance in this city to settle down into Summer quietness and ease. There is, however, a larger volume of transactions, from day to day, than existed three months since, but we have approached it so gradually that none seem to feel that we have any unusual activity at all. We have a hopeful outlook in real estate, local stocks, and all current outside transactions.

Gold continues to advance, and between failures in London and rumors of war between Great Britain and Burmah, and also the decrease of our exports of other domestic products, it seems likely to go much higher before it is much lower.

A good many National bankers who are scanning the future anxiously for signs of financial and commercial changes that may be developed out of the present rather unsatisfactory condition of affairs are getting apprehensive that some time soon—some imagine this Summer—there will be a rush for the redemption of National bank notes in greenbacks; and that, as a consequence, there will be such an increase of surrenders of bank circulation as to cause a decline in the prices of United States bonds. A letter from a Chicago National banker now in New York, who takes this view of the case, says his reasons for apprehending such a movement are the facts to which we have several times called attention in the last few days, viz.: that owing to the stagnation of commercial affairs, there is a constantly increasing accumulation of deposits in the banks, thus requiring a large increase in legal tender reserves; and that the peculiarity of the present increase of deposits is that they are much more largely made up of currency, viz.: national bank notes, than in times of business activity when deposits are more largely made up of checks on other banks. He argues that since the establishment of the Redemption Agency at Washington, the facilities for turning national bank notes into greenbacks have so increased that the experience this summer will be different from that of any previous summer in that respect. The very surrender of bank circulation itself has an important tendency to lock up greenbacks and make them scarce. Since the act of June 20th, 1874, authorized the surrender of the bonds of national banks by the deposit of legal tenders (instead of the actual surrender of the bank circulation as required under the old law) nearly $23,000,000 of legal tender notes have been deposited with the United States Treasurer by the national banks for the surrender of their circulation. How much of this has actually been paid out again by the Treasury in redemption of the surrendered bank circulation we do not know, but we at least see it semi-officially stated from Washington that the amount of legal tenders in the hands of the Treasurer awaiting the redemption of the surrendered circulation is about $7,000,000 greater than it was six months ago. It is therefore not improbable that the total amount of greenbacks now on deposit awaiting the redemption of bank circulation that has been surrendered is not less than $10,000,000.

NEW YORK, June 5, 1875.

Money closed at 2a2½ per cent. on call. Foreign exchange continues strong, notably demand sterling, the rate for the latter being 490, and the quotation for sixty day 486½a487. Prime mercantile paper was 3½a5 per cent., with 4a5 as the common quotation. Gold closed at 117, after selling at 117⅛ and 116⅞. The borrowing rates were 2, 1½ and 1 per cent., and the carrying rate 3 per cent. Loans were also made flat. The clearings were $60,000,000. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed to-day $1,564,000, and received for customs $220,000. The specie shipments to Europe to-day were $2,500,000, of which $2,350,000 was gold coin and the remainder silver bars. Governments were dull, but strong. Railroad bonds were quiet and firm in late afternoon dealings.

The stock market was steady at the commencement of business, but later became weak and fell off ¼ to 1⅞ per cent., after which it became active and strong, and advanced ½ to 1½ per cent., with Union Pacific, Lake Shore and Western Union as the features. A later change in tone is accounted for by a report from Washington that the negotiations leading toward a settlement of the present railroad difficulties had every prospect of success. During the afternoon the market was dull, but strong, almost all the brokers having either gone to the Jerome Park races or to accompany the American rifle team down the bay.

The early feeling of weakness was in part due to the announcement of the suspension of Saunders & Hardenburgh, bankers, with a deposit line of about $120,000. The house had a respectable standing, but no very considerable business. Pettee & Mann, of South street, are reported suspended. They are heavy dealers in Scotch pig and other iron. Their liabilities are not stated. Scotch pig iron has been selling in this market at $2.50 per ton below the cost of importation.

The stock market closed dull and with better feeling. The transactions aggregated 209,000 shares, of which 7,000 were Erie, 70,000 Lake Shore, 5,600 Northwestern, 52,200 Pacific Mail, 47,200 Western Union, and 17,200 Union Pacific.

Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

DAILY REPORT OF PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, June 5, 1875.

General business has not been active this week, but about all that could reasonably be expected under existing circumstances. The grain and flour markets continue dull and unsettled with a drooping tendency, and the same is true of the hog product, which has been on the back track for a week or more past. The fact is there is a general shrinking in values, and this is not without its effect in curtailing the demand, as people will naturally hold off as long as this continues; they will buy just as little as they can possibly help until satisfied that the markets have about touched bottom.

APPLES—Selling in a jobbing way at $2.50 to $4.50 per bbl. as to quality and condition.

APPLE BUTTER—50@55c ℔ gal.

BEANS—Mediums, $1.75@1.85 ℔ bushel; navies, $1.90@2.

BUTTER—Continues dull and prices are weak drooping. Sales of prime to choice solid packed at at 18@22, and common to fair, 12@15.

CHEESE—Continues weak but unchanged; prime Ohio Factory, (new) 11½@12.

DRIED FRUIT—Quiet. Peaches, (halves) 10@10½; Apples, 7@8; Blackberries, 9@10.

EGGS—The receipts continue light, and with a limited supply the market is firmer; strictly fresh, guaranteed as such, quoted at 17@18.

FLOUR—The market continues dull and prices are weak but not quotably lower. We continue to quote, in a jobbing way: Spring wheat flours, $5.75@6.25, the outside figure for fancy (baker's) Minnesotas; winters, $6.25@6.50 for red, and $6.75@7 for amber and white. We understand that good Ohio red winters are being offered by the carload at $5.75@6, on spot and to arrive, and that millers are much more anxious to sell now than they were a month ago. Rye flour, $6@6.25.

GROCERIES—Our New York dispatch, of yesterday, reported Coffee more active, but a ⅛ lower, while our Baltimore dispatch quoted that market quiet. Stock in first hands in New York June 3, 59,141 bags; at Baltimore, 19,609 bags; at Hampton Roads, 5,000 bags; at Galveston, 4,000 bags; at Savannah, 4,000 bags; afloat and loading for New York, 17,000 bags; other ports in the United States, 28,500 bags; total stock and supplies for all ports of the United States, 137,247 bags. Messrs. Wright & Co.'s telegram, dated Rio de Janeiro June 2d, advises: Sales for the United States since the 26th, 56,000 bags; shipments to the United States, Atlantic ports, 61,000 bags; loading, 119,000 bags; stock at date 120,000 bags; average daily receipts, 9,900 bags; price, 8-600. GRAIN—The grain markets continue dull and unsettled, and dealers nearly all report it very unsatisfactory; nearly all the grain now coming forward was contracted for prior to the recent break down, and cannot be sold here at current rates without involving a considerable less to owners. However, there is a very general desire to sell, as it is apprehended that the lowest notch may not yet have been reached. Wheat, for which there is not much inquiry, may be quoted at $1.25@1.30 for Penna. and Ohio red winter, and 3 to 5 cents ℔ bushel additional for amber and white. The Oat market continues dull, with increased receipts; mixed, 68@69; white, 70@71. Ear Corn is quotable at 79@81c, on track, as to quality, and 78@80c for shelled free in elevator. Rye quiet and nominal at $1.15@1.18.

HAY—The market for baled is reported steady, with a very fair demand, but prices remain unchanged; quotable on track at $22@24 for fair to prime timothy.

POTATOES—The market is firmer in consequence of diminished receipts, and prices are higher, although the demand continues light. Peach Blows were quoted to-day at 75@80 cents on track, and other kinds, 50@60, as to quality and condition.

PROVISIONS—The general tone of the market for the hog product continues offish, in sympathy with the advices from Chicago, Cincinnati and other points, and the general outlook at this writing warrants the prediction that prices will go still lower.

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, June 5, 1875.

PITTSBURGH CENTRAL STOCK YARDS.

ARRIVALS.

Following were the arrivals of live stock at these yards for the week, and, to afford a comparison, we append those of last week also:

	This week.	Last week.
Cattle	367 cars.	357 cars.
Hogs	177 "	182 "
Sheep	63 "	89 "

FREIGHTS

There has been no change in rates from this point eastward, and, so far as we know, none is contemplated. The rate is 20c ℔ cwt to New York, and 17½ to Philadelphia and Baltimore.

CATTLE.

The receipts for the week footed up 367 cars, of which 291 cars were through consignments, and 76 cars of local, against 288 cars of through and 69 cars of local stock last week; the sales aggregated 1,334 head, against 1,114 last week. The market opened up stiff, an advance of 15@20c ℔ cwt was established on good light cattle early in the week, which was sustained all the way through, while heavy weights did not bring much, if any, better prices than the same kind brought last week; the demand for the former is increasing, buyers very generally wanted more light and not so many heavy cattle, this being the case, there was not the same difference made between the kinds in question that there has been. The fact is, a drove of good 1,300 steers sold more readily and for almost as much money as those averaging 1,400@1,500; within the past few weeks good light butcher cattle have gone up here from ½ to 1 cent ℔ lb, whereas the heavier weights during the time in question did not advance more than ¼@½ cent. This is always the case at this particular time, but it appears to be more so this year than usual.

The demand on Philadelphia account was comparatively light; the Philadelphia buyers alleged that they could not afford to pay the prices, claiming that what they bought here last week made no money, while the Chicago bought cattle yielded a very fair margin for profit. The demand for shipment to New York was more active, while, so far as we could learn, there was not a single bullock bought for Baltimore. There was a very fair attendance of country dealers and butchers, they took about one-half the whole number, and but for them it is doubtful if the advance, to which reference has been made, would have been established.

Sales were made at 7@7¼ for prime to extra; 6@6½ for good 1,000@1,100 steers, for which there was probably more inquiry than any other kind, and the great bulk of the sales were within the range of the quotations in question. There were several bunches of Cherokees, which changed hands within the range of 3⅞@4½. The receipts of still fed cattle continue liberal, mainly from Cincinnati, but they are mostly through consignments. There has been but little inquiry for stock cattle as yet; and but few of this character are arriving.

HOGS.

The receipts continue liberal, more so than was generally expected some time ago, and this with a diminished demand in consequence of the hot weather, together with the demoralized condition of the market for the products, has had a depressing effect, and prices are lower, more so than they have been for several months. Philadelphia hogs, which a few weeks ago were quoted at 9⅛@9½, have been dragging within the past day or two at 7⅞@7⅞—an extra bunch might have brought so today, as the supply of this kind was small. Yorkers have declined to 6.90@7.15 for fair to good. Thus, as will be seen, there has been quite a tumble, and the indications are that the bottom has not yet been reached, that there will be a further shrinkage in sympathy with the products.

SHEEP.

The market for this class of stock was considerably better than that of last week, in consequence of a diminished supply, an advance of from 20 to 25 cents per cwt was established and trade was quoted active at the advance. Our New York dispatch of yesterday reported an active demand with a still further improvement in prices, and as might be expected, this market closes firm in consequence. Extra 105@110 lbs, 5⅞@5⅞; prime 95@100 lbs, 5⅛@5½; 85@90 lbs, 5@5½; 75@80 lbs, 4½@4¾; common same weights, 4@4½. Indianas ranged from 3½@5, as to quality and condition.

Philadelphia Wool Market—Monthly Review.

Coates Bro. review the market as follows: The stock of wool in this market throughout the past month has been small and sales, consequently, limited. The Ohio fat-sheep wool, which have been arriving in moderate sized lots, have met with ready sale, and the clips of Maryland and Virginia are now commencing to reach the market. We are informed that there is still a stock of old wool on hand in Boston, there having been a large amount carried there all through the season. In consequence of the great exertions last summer in drumming for consignments, the Boston commission houses succeeded in influencing large quantities of wool to that city, more, indeed, than could possibly be handled judiciously, in the interest of consignors. Much of this stock was, therefore, necessarily pressed for sale at prices considerably below those ruling elsewhere, so that some of the best manufacturers of this section were constrained to incur the expense of handling supplies at a distance from their mills; while, at the same time, the wool commission houses here which had the largest trade to supply bought a considerable amount of the surplus stock in Boston, making a full commission by the operation. This loss might have been saved to consignors by shipping direct to this market, which supplies the principal demand for low and medium wools and much the better part of the trade for combing and delaine. This position of affairs during the past season was understood and appreciated by western shippers, but too late to correct the mistake.

The state of the general business of the country continues very unsatisfactory, many large mercantile houses being in a decidedly weaker condition to-day than at this date last year. At the same time, the whole amount of wool in the hands of growers, dealers and manufacturers is, this season, unusually small, the stock in this market being almost nothing, so that early shipments, at least, will probably be readily disposed of at fair prices for immediate consumption.

Colorado wools are wanted but are yet very scarce, the few lots which are coming in being quickly bought up at full prices.

Money continues easy, being extremely cheap where the credit of buyers is absolutely unquestionable.

The sales for the month of Domestic Wools foot up about 2,700,000 lbs, and the receipts are stated at 1,600,000 lbs.

Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, June 5.—There was continued excitement in the print market, and jobbers reduced Garner's fancies to 6⅛c, do shirtings to 6⅛c, and staples in proportion. Jobbers also reduced Amoskeag fancies to 6c, and Wamsutta do to 5⅛c, and immense sales were made on terms ten days net Apart from prints, business was light in all departments. Woolen goods are improving. Foreign goods are quiet.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, June 5, 1875.

REVIEW FOR THE WEEK—THE OUTLOOK.

Trade has been very quiet, unusually so, during the week which has just closed, but it is hoped and expected that there will soon be a change for the better. The fact that the combination is now regarded as a success, every refiner here having gone into it, has created a more hopeful feeling in regard to the immediate future, as the main object of the Central Association, so called, is to so regulate the supply as to afford the refiner a living margin for profit, and it is conceded that something of this character is badly needed. At the present time the prices current for refined do not cover actual cost, even at the recent reduction in the raw article, and in consequence there are no sellers; refiners, although at liberty to sell, cannot afford to do so, at or below cost, and then pay one cent ℔ gallon into the combination pool, which is one of the stipulations. It is evident, in view of the continued liberal receipts, that there is still considerable of the raw article being purchased for this point, while there are those who regard it as good property at current rates, and there are others who view it differently. The production, according to our latest intelligence from the producing regions, is just about holding its own, and is some 10,000 to 12,000 barrels per day below that of the corresponding time last year; development is also reported as being comparatively small, and but for the immense stock there is no question but prices would be much higher than they are. Producers generally have been considerably exercised in regard to the Refiners Combination, which they alleged was prejudicial to their interests, but the feeling appears to be subsiding, from which it is evident that they have discovered that they were worse scared than hurt, that it was more imagination than reality. And even if it was so they (the producers) can follow the example of the refiners, and form a combination to protect their own interests.

CRUDE.

The market has been very dull all week, and devoid of any new features excepting a gradual decline in prices; immediate shipment, which this day week was up to $1.55@1.57½, was quoted to-day at $1.37½@1.40. Rumors were current of new strikes and this may have had something to do with the depressed condition of the market.

REFINED.

Continues very dull, and prices are lower than they have been for some time. Baltimore delivery quoted at 12¼c, and Philadelphia at 12⅛, which means about 10c on cars here. These rates will not more than cover actual cost, if that.

OIL BARRELS.

The Barrel market continues quiet and unchanged; $1.10@1.15 for countries, and $1.25@1.30 for city make.

BOSTON, June 5—The market is unchanged. Manufacturers buy only in lots as wanted, but with small stocks are obliged to purchase frequently, and sales foot up a fair average. There is more inquiry for fine fleeces; sales of 15,400 lbs Ohio and Pennsylvania, principally choice XX, at 52½@53c. Dealers and manufacturers appear to be quite indifferent to the new clip, and will hesitate to purchase to any extent except at lower figures than growers are now willing to submit to. The only sale of new Kentucky in the past week was 10,000 lbs at 49½c. There is a fair demand for pulled wool, the sales of the week comprising 100,000 lbs, prices indicating no material change. Some choice lots of super sold as high as 55@56c, but still the bulk of the sales have been in the range of 45@50c. BOATS LEAVING TO-DAY.

Wheeling—Mallie Ragon, 1 P. M.

THE stage of water last evening was two feet eight inches and rising. Cloudy and warm, with occasional showers, and the indications continue favorable for a June rise.

CAPT. F. X. RENO and Capt. Geo. W. Neare have dissolved partnership.

THE Joseph A. Stone passed Cincinnati on Thursday, with five barges of oil barrels and two empty barges.

THE dredge-boats are at work in the lower portion of the Kanawha under the directions of the Kanawha Board.

THE Exchange left Cincinnati for this port on Thursday, drawing three feet; she has about twenty-five passengers.

PILOT W. H. DORSEY, at one time Secretary of Pittsburgh Pilots' Association, was a passenger up on the Mallie Ragon.

THERE are six coal barges and one flat aground at Buffington—two packages belonging to the My Choice, and four to the Fred Wilson.

THE Rover left St. Louis for this port on Thursday with six barges of ore. The Gilmore and Fannie Tatum were at the ore pile at last accounts.

THE Kountz Line, which has had no tonnage berth for three weeks, will load a boat at St. Louis this week. The company has been waiting its turn.

THE towboat Samson arrived at Louisville from Pittsburgh, on Thursday, with seven barges of coal for Sam. Roberts. She returned with a tow of empty barges.

THE Mallie Ragon arrived from Wheeling on time, and as will be seen by card, she returns to-day as usual at 1 P. M. Captain Williamson in command and Messrs. Caldwell and Kirker are in charge of the office.

THE only steamers now plying in the Arkansas River are the Maumelle and Ella Hughes above Little Rock, the Lizzie from Little Rock to Pine Bluff, the Clarksville to New Orleans, and the Legal Tender and Belle Texas to Memphis.

THE Cincinnati Commercial of Saturday says:—Alex. McConnell, clerk of the Arlington, has gone to Sewickley, Pennsylvania, on a visit to his family. He will return in time to resume his duties in the office of the Arlington, leaving for New Orleans on Wednesday.

JOSEPH P. JOHNSTON is dead. He was the brother-in-law of the late Capt. J. V. Throop, and uncle of Geo. Savage and John Hamilton Throop. He was the engineer of two boats that were destroyed by the explosion of their boilers, viz.: the Knoxville and Lexington.

COMMANDER JOSEPH FYFEE, U. S. N., was on Tuesday, at his own request, relieved from duty as Light-house Inspector, Fourteenth District, and given the command of the Monocacy in the Asiatic squadron. He leaves for San Francisco in a few days, and sails the 1st of July. His successor is Lieut. Chas. H. Rockwell, U. S. N.

FOLLOWING boats were in port yesterday: Park Painter, John F. Dravo, James Jackson, Maggie Smith, Andy Fulton, Sam Parker, D. Newcomb, Enterprise, Charley McDonald, Stella, Lioness No 2, Sam Clarke, Baltic, J. H. Bigley, Resolute, Jno. Dippold, Tom Dodsworth, Panther, Diamond, Grand Lake, Dick Fulton No. 3, Sam Miller, Hercules, Tigress No. 2, Storm, Boaz, Ark, Fearless, Jas. Gilmore and I. N. Phillips.

THE Ironton Journal remarks: "George W. Keys, Wharfmaster, was a fourth owner in the Mollie Ebert. The company bought the boat very cheap, paying $8,000 for her, but put in the neighborhood of $5,000 repairs on her. They fitted her up and refurnished the cabin complete, and made other expensive repairs. Not long since they refused $16,000 for her, and considered her real value at $35,000.

A MEMPHIS telegram of the 5th inst., from Mr. M. L. Virdin, clerk, says the Thomas Sherlock has made eight hundred miles in eighty-seven hours, with eight hundred tons of freight, against a heavy current, and making twenty landings.... Some weeks ago the towboat John Dippold sunk 150,000 bushels of coal, one hundred miles above Memphis. Parties are now at work saving it, the decline of the river allowing the work to proceed favorably.

THE St. Louis Times says:—Sanford B. Coulson, who has the contract for transporting the Government supplies on the Upper Missouri, is a young man 30 years of age, rather inclined to corpulency, with an honest, open countenance and a manner cordial and pleasing in the extreme. He is a native of Pennsylvania. The Commodore's headquarters are at Yankton. He controls eight steamers which will be kept busy moving Uncle Sam's supplies until the close of navigation.

A ST. LOUIS dispatch under date of Friday says: The Fannie Tatum leaves for Cincinnati to-morrow, when the Susie Silver and a fleet of barges clear for New Orleans also. Commodore Wm. J. Kountz arrived from St. Paul to-day, and left to-night for Pittsburgh. The river is swelling slowly. The June rise, as far as heard from, will not materially affect the stage of water here and below. There is not much doing at the iron pile, and the shipments will let up until there is a rise in the Ohio. It is not decided yet whether the Church will load here or go out light to Cairo. She may take a cargo of iron to the Ohio. Rates to New Orleans firm at previous quotations. The City of Alton gets 4,000 bbls of flour between here and Cairo. The T. F. Eckert is still here; she makes an excursion with a Sunday-school to-morrow. The Great Republic makes a trip on Sunday.

HOME NEWS.

Cutting Affray.

Shortly before one o'clock yesterday morning two young men called at the office of Dr. Easton, on Chestnut street, Allegheny, and one of them exhibited a large wound extending across his forehead, and the other had a wound on the side of his forehead. Their injuries were dressed, but they declined to give their names or tell how they received their hurts, except that they were obtained in a row.

A Hartranft Club in Allegheny.

On Saturday evening a number of Republicans of the Third ward, Allegheny, held a meeting for the purpose of organizing a Hartranft club. The meeting was organized by calling Mr. James Marshall to the chair. After talking the matter over, it was agreed to adjourn until Wednesday evening at 7½ o'clock, at which time all of the Republicans of the ward are requested to be present.

Death from Exposure.

On Saturday evening, a man named John McBride was picked up near Bailey & Brown's mill, close to the Allegheny river, in the Fourth ward, in a dying condition. He was removed to his home, where he died at six o'clock the same evening. Alderman Butler held an inquest on the body yesterday, and the jury returned a verdict of "death from exposure." Deceased was sixty-three years of age, and leaves a wife and three children.

A man, whose name our reporter did not learn, but who is an employe of the Keystone Bridge Company, fell yesterday from the new railroad bridge which is building across Saw Mill run, in the Thirty-sixth ward He fell upon a quantity of stone on the ground thirty or thirty-five feet below, sustaining a fracture of the collar bone and very severe injuries about his head. It was thought that his skull had been broken by the fall.

Pittsburgh Produce House.

To those who already ship to this market, and to all who may be induced to do so, we would cordially recommend the firm of Messrs. Chas. H. Lewis & Co. as one of the most reliable of any doing business in our city. Their motto of doing business is quick sales and prompt returns; and we advise shippers to give them a trial and we assure them that they will have no reason to regret their selection. Correspondence should be addressed to Chas. H. Lewis & Co., 155 Liberty street. Marking plates and price currents furnished free on application.

A Foundling.

Shortly before one o'clock yesterday morning a young man named Lewis Cooper, while walking along River avenue, Allegheny, on his way to his home, discovered a babe lying on the ground near a board pile about the foot of Sandusky street. The little one was sobbing, which attracted his attention. He summoned a couple of police officers, as he did not know what to do with it, and handed it over to officer Cowell, who got a lady on his beat to take charge of it until daylight, when it was turned over to Secretary McGonnigle, of the Poor Board, who will send it to the Poor Farm this morning. The child is about four months old, and was dressed very neatly when found.

High School Matters—The Annual Commencement.

At a meeting of the High School Committee of the Central Board of Education, on Saturday, Professor Jillson was instructed to rent the Pittsburgh Opera House for the High School Commencement, which takes place on the 24th instant. On the 28th the examination of applicants for admission will commence, and at its conclusion the Principal will make as early a report as possible. A reunion of the graduating class will be held in the High School building, on the 23d. On Friday afternoon next the High School Committee will meet at the building and make an inspection with a view of ascertaining what repairs and improvements are necessary to be made during vacation.

MYSTERIOUS THEFT.

A Pretty Damsel Robbed of Her Golden Tresses While Napping.

A most malicious, mischievous and daring theft occurred at the residence of a Fifth avenue merchant, at Oakland, a few afternoons ago, whereby a fascinating and pretty damsel lost a luxurious head of natural golden hair. She was a guest at her friends' house, and on the occasion mentioned, had retired for that after dinner nap so commonly indulged in by young ladies upon whom idle time weighs so heavily, and, after an hour of sweet repose, she arose to find herself as destitute of hair as an infant. She was frightened at her own appearance and alarmed the household with her screams of terror and agonizing lamentations over the loss of her beautiful tresses. A thorough search of the dwelling from roof to cellar for the bold perpetrator of the outrage was at once made, but it was fruitless, nor was any trace discovered of the stolen hair. The affair is involved in deep mystery. No stranger was seen about the premises that day, and the girl was entirely unconscious of the malicious theft until the discovery of her loss was made. It is conjectured that she was drugged, and that no unpracticed hand performed the operation. A singular feature of the mystery is that whosoever committed the theft seemed only to covet the golden ringlets, as an abundance of valuable jewelry and a small sum of money on an uncovered table in the room remained untouched. This latter circumstance leads to the further conjecture that some jealous girl sought, in this more despicable than romantic way, to deface the beauty of the afflicted damsel by robbing her of its conspicuous and crowning glory. The incident creates quite a flutter in the circle of society in which the young lady moves, and other belles avow that they will be on the alert to guard against losing their own locks by attending to the locks of their chamber doors before taking their lazy naps after dinner.

SUNDAY MORNING HEARING.

Cases Disposed of by the Mayor Yesterday.

The Sabbath morning hearing in the Central Police Station comprised thirty-five cases, all of which were variously disposed of, the more important ones only being noted here. Edward Brown called at the Bull's Head tavern, on Second avenue, on Saturday afternoon, and secured lodging. He was shown to a room and shortly after the landlady, taking an unexpected peep at him, discovered him investigating another boarder's trunk. The Mayor gave him one month at Claremont. Similar sentences were imposed on Mike Bracken, Pat. McCaffrey, Charles Scott, William Harris, Charles Smith and Albert Pressman. On Saturday night a healthy row was kicked up in Murphy's saloon, on Penn avenue. The tumult and screaming of women attracted the attention of officer Morris Rosenthal, who attempted to enter the saloon when James Melanphys slammed the door in his face. James was subsequently arrested on a charge of interfering with an officer, and gave bail for trial. An information has also been made against Murphy, the proprietor, for keeping a disorderly house, and a warrant issued. Officer Snyder arrested Richard McCollough, on Saturday evening, near the Rush House, as a suspicious character, it being thought that he is implicated in the robbery of an old man who was relieved of his pocket-book. Thirty days was chalked down against him, and also opposite the name of Michael Handle, who drew a razor on the officer who attempted to arrest him for a more serious offense than singing "Silver Threads Among the Gold." Maria Link is a case from Deputy Mayor Schafer's bailiwick. Maria was once handsome and a school teacher, and her right name is——, let imagination supply the link. She got sixty days for disorderly conduct. Deputy Mayor Lowry sentenced William Hughes to thirty days as a suspicious character, and Deputy Mayor Nichols gave John Keesy a like term.

THE BUENA VISTA AFFAIR.

Continuation of the Testimony in the Case.

Taking up the testimony in the Buena Vista riot case where it was broken off on Saturday morning, we give a fresh installment. We have already expressed the conviction of every one who has carefully read the reports thus far, and need only add that the evidence as it proceeds justifies the indignation felt at the verdict.

Patrick Brannon sworn—Direct examination by Mr. Laird—In October and November last I lived part of the time in Pittsburgh and part of the time at Armstrong station; I was at Armstrong station to watch the place and see that it would not be burned down; that was after these men went out of the mines; I was there on Saturday before the Italians came; a good many people came in there about the time the train came in in the evening—I could not tell the exact number; they were old miners that assembled there; I could not say whether they were armed; I saw no arms; I came on an evening train myself; I heard the old miners say that these Italians ought to be cleaned out; that they came to take the bread out of their mouths; that was after the Italians came; I was there when the Italians came; they behaved peaceably and quiet; they got off the train and got their baggage off, and made no noise or fuss; I did not see anything when they got off the train to alarm any person; I did not hear any shooting the first night they came; the first shooting I heard was on Friday; it came from the Buena Vista side of the river; it commenced about eleven o'clock at night; there was firing for nearly an hour and a half or two hours; I think there were three or four of the bullets that came into the store; this store was Mr. Armstrong's; the next time I heard any firing was the next Friday night; that was the big fight that night; there were firing from two directions from the other side that night; they fired towards the Italian houses and towards the store; the firing was commenced on the Allegheny side; they fired two rounds from there before there was any reply made; I could not tell the probable number of men on the other side; they fired eight or ten together at times; I could see that many flashes; the firing came from the direction of Mr. Bell's—I think he lives in the house—between his house and the river; some of the Italians' houses were struck with balls that night; it was after two o'clock when they stopped firing; I saw two of Mr. Armstrong's houses on fire; that was in daylight; one of them was on fire on Sunday afternoon about two o'clock after dinner; I saw the house on fire up at the tipple; I do not recollect the hour that it was on fire; it was in daylight, right after one of the miners' families had moved out; they hardly had their goods out when it was seen on fire; I help put out the fire; I was not inside to see how the fire started; it was on the outside of the roof I saw the fire; during all the time this firing was going on at these men from across the river I did not observe them at any time go any further than was necessary for their own self-defense; the firing was always from the Allegheny side first; while I was there these Italians were quiet and peaceable so far as they were not interfered with, and even then they took a great deal; they were better behaved than our own people under similar circumstances. They stood more abuse; they were sometimes called everything you could think of; there are fifty Italians working where I am now working, at the Pittsburgh water-works; they are peaceable and quiet-behaved and industrious; they start early and work late; some of them work for an hour or two hours after we leave; I could not say from what part of Italy they came; they are sober—I never saw an Italian drunk on the water-works, and I do not recollect of ever seeing one of them drunk any other place. I have known Mr. Armstrong for nineteen years; his character for peace and order is good; I have done a good deal of work for Mr. Armstrong. I did not see Mr. Guscetti do anything only in his own defense; I could not say whether Mr. Guscetti is a Swiss Italian or not. One of these men at the works before the Italians came, I have known for eighteen years; he was a quiet, peaceable man when I had known him before; he remained with the Italians nearly two weeks after they came; his name is Toolan; two others by the name of Robinson and Campbell did not move away at all; I saw them about there; the man by the name of Campbell was a good deal about there; I do not know Stivison; I do not know what has become of Campbell now; he left a week or ten days after the rest moved away; when I first went there I slept at the house of a German by the name of Meyers; the latter part of the time I was there I slept in the store; one night I left the store on account of apprehending the danger of an attack; I was afraid of that cannon; I did not want to be struck by a cannon shot; I went up to the farm house; there was firing as I went up, and when I got up there, there was firing from Armstrong's stables and from the woods; to the left of the farmhouse they lay in the woods and there were a good many shots; some of them came through the building; from my knowledge there was not at any time any more pickets or guards put out than was absolutely necessary to guard against these attacks, and some nights there was not enough; some times we got word of an attack; there was a widow woman who lived there that the miners would tell to leave when they were going to make an attack; when she would go away we were pretty sure of an attack; I do not know her by name; she was the widow of a miner that got killed in the mines.

Cross-examination by Mr. Frank Cowan—I was at the works twenty days altogether while the Italians were there; I have seen the Italians firing to defend themselves; they did this firing after night; they generally fired where the firing came from; they could not tell where they would fire; the firing did not cease then on the other side; it did not cease on either side one night for two hours; it was impossible to tell where these balls the Italians fired would fall; I knew there were men, women and children living in the houses on the opposite side of the river; they fired where they saw the flash come from; I suppose they fired back regardless of consequences; I did not hear the effect that this firing of the Italians had upon the community around, but I heard that they struck some houses; I understood that the men on the other side sent their families away in order to have a good chance to fire over at the Italians. I have worked three or four different times for Mr. Armstrong; do not expect to be in his service again; I never care for a favor from any man; I generally work for the man that gives me the most money, I don't care who it is.

James Lattimore, sworn—Direct examination by Mr. Laird—I live about a quarter of a mile from Armstrong's works; I have lived there over four years; I know when these old diggers that Mr. Armstrong had, quit work; it was some two or three weeks before the Italians came; the reason they quit was they wanted to keep weighing on the hill and Mr. Armstrong wanted to weigh at the foot of the hill; the screen at the foot of hill was a three-quarter inch one; before they commenced weighing at the top of the hill they were running over a three-fourth inch screen; when they commenced to weigh at the top of the hill he paid them by the ton—paid them for slack and all; he could not weigh it any where else by the ton but there, and then he had to weigh it again at the foot of the hill, and that took more men; I could not say exactly what was the difference in expense; when they went in at this rate first, they agreed to throw away all their bearing-in slack; a great many did not do so, and consequently some men were discharged, and they were going to strike; I was weighman on the hill at the time; I could not tell exactly what proportion of slack they put in, but a great deal more, however, than when they started; in regard to dismissing them if they put in too much slack, they had a meeting and wanted to hold on in spite of Mr. Armstrong; the old miners wanted to keep their own men altogether—that is, they did not want any man discharged at any time, hardly; this was by their union or something of that kind; when they came there, there was no contract as to how long or how short a time they would work; the size of the screen was not changed after these old miners commenced to work; I understood that Mr. Armstrong wanted them to work over the screen again to save expense at the foot of the hill; there was no screen at the top of the hill; we had to screen it at the bottom of the hill, and there is where we found out there was so much slack; we sent in word by the pit boss that such and such men were sending out too much slack; he wanted to discharge the men, but the men held a meeting and said they should not be discharged; there was one man, however, discharged on the head of it; Mr. Armstrong gave them notice in advance of the time that he would weigh the coal only down at the foot of the hill; I do not remember exactly how long it was in advance, but it was a good while; the men were at liberty to go to work on those terms afterward; when weighed at the foot of the hill he paid at the rate of $2.80 over the small screen and three cents per bushel over the large screen; a good digger who works all day like a farmer works from sun to sun would dig a hundred bushels a day; they were paid the cash every month; they were paid as much as they were paying at any of the mines around there; these Italians worked for three cents a bushel; the old miners were at liberty to go to work if they would go to work at three cents a bushel; I think some of them would have gone to work if they were not afraid of the others; then the work at the coal banks stopped, and Mr. Armstrong got somebody to get the Italians; I heard one of the old miners say that Armstrong had better not bring the Italians there, because there was more ammunition and lead in the country at that time than he ever knew before; that was before they came; I was there before the Italians came; I saw sometimes a good many congregate there in the evening before they came; I did not see any arms, but while I was in the store I heard shots discharged; from the demonstrations that were made there, I do not believe the Italians could have come there with safety without their arms, if the old miners had known of their coming; I was told that I had better look out for myself; I did not see the Italians do anything wrong, any more than any men when they came there; they behaved very well during the whole of the time they were there; so far as I knew, they were sober men, and wanted to work; they worked early and late; from the demonstrations I saw I deemed it necessary a guard should be placed out there at night; they behaved very well, so far as I knew, when they were on guard at night; I never knew of any instances of their unnecessary halting a man; I know of two men that had arms being arrested; I suppose it was between nine and ten o'clock at night when they were arrested, they were arrested pretty convenient to Mr. Armstrong's stable; the Italians told me they were watching around there and saw these two men with guns peeping around the fence; their names were Matthew Craig and David Pinkerton; they were old miners; they brought the men to me and they told me that they came up to tell me that the Italians would be attacked that night; we were attacked that night; I do not remember the date of the attack on my house; I suppose it was about the tenth of November; that night as I was coming up, the Italians on guard came along; while I was standing by the house there were two shots fired from the stable or around there; I suppose the stable is about two hundred yards from the house; the Italians ran over there to see who it was, and these men ran off; they could not find them anyhow; I saw the flash of the shots myself; there was an attack on my house at a later hour; I suppose it was ten o'clock or later; shots were fired through the house; there were some of the Italian guards up around the house; the shots that went into the house came across a field; I heard since that they were out of a man's garden which is across a field; he told me since that he saw the men in the garden that I thought fired the shots; Mr. McArthurs was in my house that night; during the whole time these men were there I do not think I observed them go beyond what appeared to be necessary for self defense.

To Mr. Foster—That night there was a cow of Mr. Armstrong's shot; that was shot late in the evening; I do not remember what day of the month that was; the stable that was burned stood between my house and the works on the face of the hill; it was a pretty large frame stable, and would hold fourteen or fifteen head of mules; then above there was hay and grain; one horse, the hay and grain, a lot of harness, and everything was burned except the mules, which they let out; I was not at home the evening the fire took place, but I have since understood it was about eight o'clock; it started first in the evening, I understood, and 'Squire Greenawalt put it out, and then it was started again; one of Mr. Armstrong's cattle was shot, but it did not die.

Cross-examination by Mr. Frank Cowan.—I do not know shot this heifer; I do not know that Pecol, an Italian, shot it; I think the guard was put out the first night; I could not tell anything about the firing on the Allegheny side—I was too far away; the guard was put out the second night; I could not tell whether that prevented the firing or not; they put out a guard the third night; I could not say how often the Italians fired their guns after night; I suppose they fired more than once on these three nights; they did not find that when they fired back it protected them and restored peace and quietness; I think this stable was burned on Sabbath-day; I suppose it was after these three men were killed—I was not there; I saw occasionally, not very often, Mr. Guffey and Mr. Bowser; two deputy sheriffs from Westmoreland county were stationed there at one time; I do not suppose there was so much of this firing after night while they were there; I know there was one night there was firing from the other side; they said there was going to be a wedding across the river, but they fired into the store that night and there was no wedding there.

To Mr. Laird—An Italian boy about there who was hardly right, took some cabbage out of a garden there at one time; as I was coming from church one day I saw the boy take some out of another man's garden; I went and told Mr. Guescetti, and Mr. Guscetti made him take it back.

OBITUARY.

Demise of An Aged Resident of Washington County.

Mr. Isaac Van Voorhis, an old well-known and highly respected citizen of Carroll township, Washington county, near Monongahela City, died on Friday morning in the eighty-second year of his age. From particulars furnished by a correspondent we learn that he was born on the 15th of March, 1794, within two miles of the place where he died. He resided for forty years on the old homestead bequeathed to him by his father, and forty-one years on the farm where the declining years of his life were spent. His great grandfather came from Holland about the year 1670, accompanied by two brothers, one of whom was killed by a poisoned arrow shot by an Indian. From the two surviving brothers descended all in this country named Van Voorhis. These two brothers settled in the State of New York, and their issue generally resided on Long Island, where the grandfather of deceased was born in 1701, and where also his father was born in 1738. The latter for a time lived in New Jersey, but in 1785 he removed to the farm on which the subject of this sketch was born. Mr. Van Voorhis was a subscriber of the WEEKLY GAZETTE for over sixty years and during his life read over three thousand copies of it, always depending upon it for his political and general news and market reports. His father had taken it from its foundation in 1786. Deceased had always been identified with the Whig and Republican parties. He, with Robert McFarland, were the only persons in what was then Fallowfield township, Washington County, but which is now divided into four or five townships, who voted for John Quincy Adams for President. He never had any faith in or trusted the Democratic party and during his long life of over four score years he never sought an office. For over fifty years he was a member of the Presbyterian church, and a ruling elder for more than forty. He was an exemplary christian and his early training in the teachings and doctrines of the Bible enabled him in his last illness to draw from it that spiritual consolation which, in the hour of death, the christian alone can value.

PISCATORIAL.

Lady Teachers as Fishers—An Angling Excursion on Saturday.

A party of young lady school teachers from the Fourth and Seventh wards, Allegheny, accompanied by a number of their lady and gentlemen friends who are not members of the profession, went on a fishing and picnicking excursion, on Saturday, to Hill's mill, on the Kiskiminetas river, a few miles above Freeport. They left on the early morning train on the West Penn road, and returned at twilight, bringing with them, as trophies of their gastronomical and piscatorial skill, empty baskets and—not a fish. At angling the ladies proved melancholy failures, for not one of them caught even as much as a "chub," but their want of success in that respect had no depressing effect on either their good humor, good looks, spirits or appetite. One of the party took with her a number of salmon, which she had purchased in market the evening previous, and slyly fastening one of them to a hook, she shoved it into the river and then giving a vigorous jerk and a series of screams, flopped it out on the bank and convinced several that she had really caught a fish. The young gentleman who rushed forward to extract the hook from its mouth acknowledged that the joke was on him. Owing to the heavy rain storm which came up about noon, the party were obliged to eat their dinner in a country school house near by, the desks serving as tables, and the teachers averring that fate not only obliged them to attend to business but some times to seek recreation in a school room.

REWARDING THE CAPTORS.

The Perrysville Road Murder—The Action of the County Commissioners—A Recommendation in Behalf of Miss Kearns.

On Saturday a recommendation was made by the Court and the Prosecuting Attorney that a reward of $100 be given Miss Mary Kearns for her assistance in the arrest of Murray and Myers, the murderers of farmer Wahl, on the Perrysville Road. Miss Kearns saw the men in a boarding house, and recognized them. She called the attention of Officer O'Mara to the fact, and that led to the arrest. Last week, by recommendation of the Court and Prosecuting Attorney, a reward of $140 was given to Officer O'Mara, but Miss Kearns was forgotten. In some quarters this omission has been charged upon the County Commissioners—which put them in a position where they were subject to unfair criticism. In giving the reward to the officer they did so on a recommendation coming through the proper official channels. It was not their province to hunt up all the parties who aided in the arrest. They only acted on the recommendation of the Court and the District Attorney in Officer O'Mara's case, and now that a similar recommendation has been made in behalf of Miss Kearns they can consider her case, and recognize her services accordingly. They could not act on the matter, however, before it was officially brought before them.

A Card.

Having concluded to turn my attention more particularly to Pianos and Organs, and wishing to curtail my present stock of small goods, such as Violins, Violas, Clarionetts, Flutes, Fifes, Guitars, Banjos, Tamborines, Zithers, Brass Band Instruments, Violincellos, Drums, Strings, Harmonicas, &c., &c., I will offer them at greatly reduced prices to make room for Pianos and Organs, a large amount of which have arrived. Have just received a large invoice of "Steck" Pianos from the New York factory, which cannot be excelled in any of the qualities which go to make a first-class Piano. These pianos took the first premium over all others at the Vienna Exposition. These pianos, though not advertised as some others, are working their way very rapidly into the favor of the best musicians of this country and Europe. 'Tis rarely that a first-class piano can be sold on monthly payments, but I have made arrangements by which I can offer the Steck at almost as small figures as the so-called first-class pianos, and monthly or quarterly payments.

For those who do not care to lay out so much, I have a good, cheap piano, which I can sell very low. I buy for cash, and buy largely. I am enabled to offer inducements that no other house in the city of Pittsburgh can offer. I am receiving at the rate of thirty "Jubilee" Organs per week. As these organs are well known all through the United States, it is only necessary to say that I offer them at almost as low prices as other music dealers offer their shoddy cheap organs. Having been established since 1856, my house has a reputation which no other can boast. It has always been my aim to buy the best goods at the lowest figures, and sell with a small profit. This enables me to command a trade which no other house in the city can. All communications addressed to Jno. Zweidinger, 136 Smithfield street, Pittsburgh, Pa., will meet with prompt answers.

COURT BREVITIES.

In the Common Pleas Court No. 1, Saturday, William Sollinger filed a bill in equity vs. Peter Leezer et al., who is engaged with the plaintiff in the planing mill business at Braddock's Field, asking that the existing partnership be dissolved on account of certain differences which have lately sprung up.

In the same Court an action was begun to recover damages for alleged malicious prosecution by James D. Scott vs. L. J. Keuchler. The plaintiff says in his affidavit that he was in the employ of the defendant for three or four months in the year 1873, in a dental office in Allegheny; that when he left the office Keuchler owed him $100 for which he subsequently entered suit; that when the case was tried, Keuchler set up as a defense that he (Scott), while in his employ, had collected certain bills and appropriated the money to his own use. A short time after the trial, the plaintiff avers that Keuchler made a criminal information against him, charging him with fraudulently receiving and appropriating money, and on being tried he was acquitted. He now brings suit to recover $1,000 damages for an injured reputation.

In the Criminal Court Saturday, a number of recognizances not renewed for the next term, were forfeited. There were a few persons who had been found guilty of different offenses who were not called up for sentence. This matter will be attended to in the future by Judge Ewing. The June term of this Court will open to-day with Judge Stowe on the bench. District Attorney Montooth is on a trip to the South for his health, and during his absence the business of his office will receive attention at the hands of Col. J. S. Haymaker.

The case of Philip Murray, which was expected to come up for final disposition before the Criminal Court on Saturday, was postponed on account of the absence of Judge Kirkpatrick. It is possible that it will receive attention sometime during the present week.

The ejectment suit of the alleged claimants of "Smoky Island" vs. the City of Allegheny will be taken up in the Common Pleas Court No. 2 this morning.

Some time since a rule was granted by the Quarter Sessions Court, at the instance of the West Penn Railroad Company, to compel the citizens of Indiana township to show cause why the decree of Court confirming the report of viewers on opening a public road at Montrose should not be set aside. The railroad wanted to close the road up for the reason that the Conduit Company are making arrangements to haul its oil across from the pipes to the tanks. The matter was argued before Judge Ewing on Saturday, who refused to set aside the former decree.

AMUSEMENTS.

Pittsburgh Opera House.

"Saulsbury's Troubadours" having played last week in St. Louis, open to-night at the Opera House and will remain during the week. As already stated their entertainment is after the style of the Vokes family, and as the company comprises a number of meritorious actors their performances will doubtless be of a good order. The programme for this evening comprises the play of "Little Mother" and the extravaganza, "Patchwork."

Trimble's Varieties.

Quilter and Goodrich are the two more prominent stars who appear at this theatre to-night, which is the commencement of the Summer season. In addition to these who, with others, enact a melo-drama, there is an excellent olio programme.

The Sheriffalty.

To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette:

As I believe it is necessary for the Republican party to put up good men this campaign, I desire to call attention to Mr. T. W. Lindsay as a candidate for Sheriff. He fulfils, in its widest sense, the Jeffersonian test of honesty and capability. Mr. Lindsay is a man of unimpeachable character, is active and energetic, is a man of administrative ability, and has, both in public and private life, demonstrated his especial fitness for an office of trust and responsibility. With such a man at the head of the ticket in the county, we could go before the people to win. B.

Cresson Springs.

In a few days—as will be seen by announcement elsewhere—Cresson Springs, that paradisaical mo untain retreat, will be opened for the summer. Those who wish to reinvigorate the system by drinking in the life giving mountain air, will hail this announcement with delight, and will be glad to hear that additional accommodations have been provided for visitors. This was rendered necessary because Cresson increases in popularity yearly and its friends are each season becoming more numerous. Since last season many improvements have been made, which will very materially add to the comfort and convenience of the guests, the principal of which are an extension to the main building, new ten-pin alleys, a fine billiard room, and a beautiful drive of three miles inside of the grounds. A fine band has been engaged for the season. Ample facilities for bathing have been provided, so that hot and cold baths can at all times be had.

"Cresson" this year will be under the supervision of that popular and courteous host, Mr. G. W. Mullin, who has associated with him his son, Mr. Geo. K. Mullin and Mr. Frank A. Barr, both of whom have been connected with the Mountain House for several seasons past, and whose affability and polite attention to guests have rendered them favorites with all who have visited Cresson.

The "season" at Cresson this year promises to be a brilliant one, and those who go for health and pleasure will find them in abundance. Those who prefer quiet retreats will find their desires gratified by taking up their abode in the cottages—some of which can now be secured by early application. For full information all letters should be addressed to G. W. Mullin, Mountain House, Cresson, and prompt answers will be received.

Death from the Bite of a Cat.

Mr. Eben Smith, of Bridgeton, Me., was bitten by a cat nearly six months ago, and died, it is said, from its effects on the 13th ult. The circumstances, as related by the local paper, are these: "Mr. Smith undertook to kill a cat for a neighbor, and was about to swing the animal by the hind legs so as to bring her head down on a block, when she seized his hand and bit it severely. He tore her off, dispatched her, and resumed his labors. Soon, however, erysipelas inflammation resulted, which, despite medical skill, extended gradually up his arm to the shoulder, accompanied with severe pain. This was followed by a general eruption over his body, involving the mucous membrane of the head and stomach; abscesses formed in his leg, which, during his sickness, discharged some eighty gallons of purulent matter; the bones of his hand and leg became diseased; internal abscesses formed; his constitution broke down, and he continued to grow more and more feeble until Thursday night, the 13th ult., precisely twenty-two weeks from the day he was taken down, when his sufferings were relieved by death. Through that long period he never left his room."
